ICAO AND SECURITY

Adoption of a roadmap by 14 ICAO Member States to further protect global air transport from terrorist and other security threats was praised by the Secretary General of the International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO), Raymond Benjamin, at the conclusion of a two-day regional aviation security conference in New Delhi on 15th February.

Among the measures included in the roadmap were actions that States will take to strengthen security screening procedures by ensuring that professionals are appropriately trained and equipped. Air cargo security will be enhanced through working with Customs authorities on common goals. Capacity-building assistance to States in need in co-operation with ICAO, other States and the aviation industry is emphasized in the roadmap.

The conference was the first in a series on implementing the ICAO Declaration on Aviation Security, unanimously adopted by the Organization’s Assembly last October to deal with known, new and emerging threats to civil aviation.

“The challenge, our challenge, is to turn commitment into action. Terrorism is a global problem that requires global solutions,” Mr. Benjamin emphasized when urging participants to develop the roadmap during the opening of the conference. He added, “This roadmap is a key step in addressing the security challenge and can serve as a model for other regional aviation security conferences, culminating in a global security conference planned for next year at ICAO Headquarters in Montréal.”

In support of the roadmap’s initiatives, Mr. Benjamin pointed to ICAO’s continuing collaboration with the air transport industry on a security checkpoint of the future concept to improve the effectiveness of passenger and carry-on baggage screening at airports. ICAO is also working with the World Customs Organization to establish best practices for air cargo security.

The Government of India, through its Minister of Civil Aviation, is to play a leading role in the implementation of the roadmap in the region through technical co-operation and other initiatives.
